COUNCIL ELECTION HELD THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, APRIL 26-27

Politicians Handing Out Cigars
and Shaking Hands All Around.

KEEN COMPETITION SEEN

Candidates and Qualifications Listed;
Expect More Petitions; Ballot
Boxes in Halls.

Politics has gripped the University. The buzzing and rumbling of the political machines can be heard over the campus as they line up for their annual political race. The spring election dates as decided on by the council is Thursday and Friday, April 26th and 27. This election will put in a practically new council. At the present time from the different schools there are about fifteen candidates for the position with a possibility of other names going on the ballot before they are distributed next week.

Those candidates whose names will appear on the ballot are capable and efficient students. The most of them have been interested in student activities since their entrance in the University, and from their knowledge of the different school endeavors, should make competent councilmen if elected.

The Hatchet has made an attempt to list impartially the candidates and their qualifications. There will probably be other candidates not listed, and those listed have probably done other than these things:

CANDIDATES FROM LAW SCHOOL

KENNETH J. BUSHMAN, formerly a Columbian College student, is a Freshman in Law School. He is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity and Phi Delta Phi Law Fraternity, and is chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Interfraternity Council.

WILLIAM G. HAMILTON is a member of the Kappa Sigma Phi Fraternity and of the Gate and Key.

SIGMA TAU BANQUETS; HEAR INTERESTING TALKS

Hodgkins, Miller, and Lapham Deliver
Instructive Talks at Annual Affair.

Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, held its annual banquet last Monday night at the Madrilion, having as guests its honorary members, President Hodgkins, Dean Miller, and Professor Lapham. Speeches of a general interesting nature were delivered by these men and served to enlighten those present concerning the problem of raising the standards and the prestige of the Engineering College.

Dean Miller spoke of the need of closer contact of the men who had graduated with the near-graduates. He advocated a card index system, filing all men receiving degrees, and all graduates of the college to inform the college periodically of experience that they have gained and the lines in which they are best fitted. This service, he pointed out, would be of tremendous value to the graduates in getting in touch with that work in which they were most interested.

Professor Lapham gave a very clever talk on "The Five Dimensions," applying these dimensions, length, breadth, thickness, space, and time to the principles of speech-making.

Walter Scott, an alumnus member of the fraternity, mentioned with pride the manner in which he had seen George Washington graduates measure up to those of other well known engineering colleges.

Ralph Brauner, president of Sigma Tau, gave his hearty greeting to the alumni members present as well as to the active student members, and reiterated to them the principles for which Sigma Tau stands—scholarship, practicability, and sociability among student engineers.

NOTED CHAPEL SPEAKER

Dr. Charles H. McCarthy, head of the department of history at the Catholic University, will speak on the "Training of American Statesmen," on Friday evening, April 27th, at 8:15 o'clock in the chapel. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Philippinesian, a Filipino organization in the University. All the students in the University and the public are invited.

W. U. C. Seeks University Song

Original Songs Should Be Submitted to Anna Hof Before
May 5.

The Women's University Club of George Washington University is directing another attack toward the student body in order to arouse a greater feeling of school spirit. It's not another get-together party this time, but a song-writing contest.

Last year the W. U. C. held a song-writing contest, and it was quite a success. The club wishes to promote the development of originality among the students of the University, and for this purpose it is offering prizes for the best songs submitted.

The only requirement is that the songs be original. Music must be submitted with the words, and should be original if possible.

All songs must be given to Anna Hof, 1813 Belmont Road N. W., before May 5th. The committee for awarding the prizes, which is $10.00 each, has not yet been selected. It will be announced later.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB HOLD CONCERT AT EPIPHANY

Annual Event Will Be Staged at 8 P. M., April 24; Great Success Last Year.

The Girls' Glee Club of George Washington University will give its annual concert at Epiphany Hall on G Street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, April 24th.

Under the direction of Mrs. Otis D. Swett, the girls have been faithfully practicing for some time, and they promise a very interesting program. Among the numbers on the program will be dances, costume songs, solos, and other interesting features.

Last year the Girls' Glee Club held its first concert, and it was an undoubted success. The members of this year's club ask only that the University students give as free and full support as last year. The admission will be fifty cents.

The program is as follows:

Rest Thee on This Mossy Pillow.....Smart

ANOTHER TRAGEDY

Joseph Jordan, secretary of the Law School, and president of 1923 Law Class, has entered the realm of benedicks. Miss Bessie Means is the faithful young lady. The nuptials took place at Miss Means' home last Monday evening in the presence of a small family gathering. The bride couple will spend a few days at Palm Beach, after which Mr. Jordan will return to school to prepare for his final examinations. Miss Means, it will be recalled, appeared in the role of Marguerite in Faust, recently enacted at Central High School. Jordan is an honor student in the Law School and is one of the founders of the Benchers. He is also a member of Phi Sigma Kappa and Phi Alpha Delta Legal Fraternity.

SURPRISES PLANNED FOR ANNUAL MASQUE CARNIVAL AT CITY CLUB ON MAY 1

Will Use Two Orchestras in Five
Hour Masked Revel.

TICKETS SELL FOR $3.50

Patrons and Patronesses Announced—
Le Paradis' Drum Corps Takes
Floor at 1 P. M.

Transformation of the City Club's premier ballroom into a Mall of Mystery on Tuesday, May 1st, the night of George Washington's third annual May Masque Carnival, has been arranged, Earle W. Manson, carnival committee chairman, reports.

Starting at midnight, the frolickers will be kept guessing what next will descend from the ceiling and balcony.

Many Surprises.

One scene to be staged shortly after the intermission of the gala event arrives, is described by the fete's sponsors as follows:

Clouds of vari-colored balloons will float from bags suspended above the dancers. Streamers will drift from balconies and confetti will be showered over the throng. Batteries of spotlights will play upon the scene.

Tickets for the party have been distributed, and may be obtained from the following: Knut Nilsson, Marion Barker, Abe Norcross, Charles Dyer, Ronald Marquis, Gladys Fuller, William Ballinger, Adelaide Thom, Georgia McCauley, Emma Tom Fusch, Marion Bailey, Marie Moffett, Frederick Ferar, Charles Koonce, Eugene S. Thomas, Frederick Long, Myrtle Yost, John Wright.

Office Has Tickets.

To accommodate students who might not be reached by these ticket salesmen, a limited number of the pasteboards will be on sale in offices of the University Treasurer, Twenty-first and G Streets; the Secretary of the Law School, 1435 K Street N. W.; and the Secretary of the Medical School, 1335 H Street.

The price of admission to this five-and-a-quarter hour frolic has been fixed at $3.50 per couple.

The orchestra Meyer Davis collected for the Junior Prom will start playing promptly at 10 p. m. For three hours they will render the latest jazz numbers, giving plenty of encores. At 1 a. m. the Le Paradis jazzmania artists will rush into the hall with a whoop and their latest menagerie of wild notes.

Announce Patrons.

The Patron and Patroness Committee, headed by Richard McPherson, announces inviting: President and Mrs. Howard Lincoln Hodgkins, Elmer Louis Kayser, Secretary of the University, and Mrs. Kayser; George Neely Henning, Dean of the School of Graduate Studies, and Miss Henning; William Allen Wilbur, Dean of Columbian College, and Mrs. Wilbur; William Carl Ruediger, Dean of the Teachers College, and Mrs. Ruediger; William Cline Borden, Dean of the Medical School, and Mrs. Borden; Merton Leroy Ferson, Dean of the Law School, and Mrs. Ferson; Hugh Miller, Dean of the College of Engineering; Henry E. Kalusowski, Dean of the College of Pharmacy; Anna L. Rose, Dean of Women; Charles Holmes, Treasurer of G. W. U., and Mrs. Holmes; Professor and Mrs. De Witt Clinton Croissant; Professor and Mrs. Robert Russ Kern; Professor and Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle; Professor and Mrs. Robert Whitney Bolwell; Professor and Mrs. Fred A. Moss; Professor and Mrs. J. T. Erwin; Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities, and Mrs. Morse; and Miss Linda Jane Kincannon.

LAW JUNIORS DANCE

The Junior Class of Law School held a very attractive dance in the Gold Room of the Hotel Lafayette last Monday night.

Dean Ferson, Professors Lavery, Updegraff, and Collier attended as guests of the class. During the intermission Professor Updegraff entertained by singing several popular songs.

About one hundred persons were in attendance.

G. U. Refuses to Meet Riflemen

G. U. Bases Action on Higher
Place in N. A. R. Match
Although Beaten Last Year.

In spite of lengthy negotiations with the view of arranging a rifle match with Georgetown University, there will be no such meeting this year, according to the recent announcement by Walter Stokes. This was to have been the most interesting event on the rifle calendar of George Washington, and its cancellation is a great disappointment to followers of the sport.

This decision on the part of the Hilltoppers was made on the basis of their victory in the National Rifle Association matches in which G. W. took third place. It is believed at Georgetown that this victory decides the outcome of a G. W. match without any additional test of excellence.

In the match last year, although Georgetown had a record-making team, G. W. defeated them decisively. A match this year would have created much interest among rifle circles.

MARGUERITE DALY TO MANAGE BASKETBALL

Bettelheim Elected Cherry Tree
Editor—Election of Business
Managers Next Meeting.

Marguerite Daly was elected manager of girls' basketball team for the year 1923-24 at the semi-monthly meeting of the Student Council, held Tuesday evening, April 17, in Lisner Hall. Richard McPherson, Columbian College, Harold Norcross, Law School, and John Russell, Medical School, were selected to remain on the Student Council next year.

Stanley Wright and Hillary A. Tolson were elected to the Board of Managers. To Stanley Wright, president of the Student Council, Bernard Burdick, and Robert Colflesh, members of the student body, who are on the Board of Managers, were awarded an honorary G. W. and certificate.

It was voted to award a Student Council emblem in the form of a key to all members of the Student Council. Stanley Wright and Hillary A. Tolson, chairman of the committee to select a suitable emblem.

Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., was elected editor of the Cherry Tree for 1924. The publication committee of the council is still ready to receive applications for business manager of the Hatchet and Cherry Tree. Applications should be sent to Harold Rhame, G. W. Medical School, 1335 H Street.

The Honor Constitution Committee announced that the election will be held the week beginning Monday, April 23rd, 1928, continuing to Saturday, May 5th, 1928, must vote either yes or no upon the question.

The next meeting of the Student Council will be held Tuesday, May 8th, in Lisner Hall.

GATE AND KEY INITIATES

At a recent meeting of the Gate and Key Honor Society, held at the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity House, seven new men were initiated. Those who were admitted were: G. Wilfrid Pryor, Clarence W. Gosnell, Eugene S. Thomas, John B. Wright, R. Bruce Nathan, John D. Glass, and William G. Hamilton.

Following the initiation there was held an election of officers, resulting in Donald Little being elected president, James Duggan, vice president; L. K. Hyde, secretary; Stanley Wright, treasurer; Emmett J. Peterson, sergeant at arms. Verne P. Simmons, the retiring president, was presented with the society's key.

A unique method of outdoor entertainment was agreed upon when it was voted to hold a barbecue in the early part of May at Snake Island.

ADDITION TO LIBRARY

Through the generous assistance of Justice Sutherland it has been arranged that the Law School Library will in the future receive the slip decisions. These are the opinions delivered in the Supreme Court of the United States and are issued very promptly after the opinions are rendered.

STUDENTS EXPECTED TO VOTE ON HONOR CONSTITUTION SOON

Convenient Polling Places Will Be Provided Week of April 30th.

PROFS WILL DISCUSS IT

Marks Final Attempt to Introduce
New System at G. W.—Document
Drawn up by Student Council.

The much heralded honor constitution will be voted on by the entire student body, both day and night students, beginning Monday, April 30th, and ending Saturday, May 5. Every student taking any work at all is expected and required to vote on whether George Washington shall have this honor system or not.

Balloting places will be provided in the halls, libraries, offices, and other convenient places in all departments of the University. Each student must vote only once, and sign the ballot, which as they come in will be checked off on the enrollment list. Measures will be taken to secure the vote of every registered student.

Every professor will discuss the honor system in his class previous to the voting, so that there will be no misunderstanding as to what it means. Copies of the document will be available at the voting places and will be published in the Hatchet again next week.

This constitution was drawn up by the Student Council, and approved by the faculty recently, and will mark the final attempt to place the honor system in working order here as has been done in practically every university in the country.

WILL MEET JOHNS HOPKINS RACKETERS NEXT TUESDAY

Navy Match Called Off on Account of Rain, But Manager Expects to Play Later.

G. W.'s tennis match with Navy, scheduled for Annapolis last Saturday, was postponed on account of the inclement weather. The management has been in communication with the Midshipmen, and in all probability the Hatchetites will make the trip next week.

C. U.'s racketers will be met on the 24th, and Johns Hopkins will journey over from Baltimore for a match on the 27th. Both matches will be played on the Dumbarton Club courts.

Several members of G. W.'s tennis team have been invited to participate in the Annual Wardman Park Tournament, to be held on the Hotel Courts, commencing Sunday, May 20th. The management is making every effort to have the tournament pronounced a success. Both singles and doubles will be played and a challenge cup will be presented by the Wardman Park Hotel to the winner of the single matches. This cup is to be held one year and will become the permanent possession of the player winning it three times.

Capt. Hugh Miller, the coach of the Buff and Blue tennis team, has been named a member of the Washington Municipal Tennis Committee. He has been assigned to this important position to cooperate on the development of municipal tennis, including the broadening of recreational facilities in this respect, which was recognized as the outstanding feature of the year's work at the last annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

G. W. ALUMNI TO MIX

The annual mixer of the Alumni of George Washington University will be held at the Washington Club, Seventeenth and K Streets, on Saturday evening, April 21, at 8 o'clock.

There will be a short business meeting, when elections for the year will take place, followed immediately by a reception, with dancing and refreshments.

A cordial invitation is extended to all alumni, whether members of the association or not, to former students of the University, members of the faculty, and to the members of the senior classes.

As Others See Us

By LEONARD HALL,
Dramatic Editor, Daily News

Sometimes a great university grows self-centered, bound by the invisible but mighty walls of its campus. Then it needs a Peeping Tom to toss a verbal brick-bat over the parapet. This is a brick-bat.

George Washington University is ailing, in one very important organ. Its heart skips a beat or two. It is cold and unresponsive to the gallant efforts of many of its devoted students. It has moments when the pulse fails to click. It is, in fact, dead, now and again.

This would be an impertinence if the writer had not been a guest in the buildings of your school. He has been privileged to enjoy intimate and happy association with many of the flower of the university. The university life and his touched for a space. And he not a little shocked, and a bit nauseated, by the amazing lack of interest the mass of student body takes in your activities.

An instance—the one which gives impetus to this typewriter grenade. In March a comedy, "The Charm School," was rehearsed for weeks by a faithful and splendid group of students. It was advertised as a "Junior Play." It was honored by faculty's vize. It was produced at Masonic Auditorium with immense success—to a half-empty hall. And once it was produced, and the good work done in the name of a class, it was dropped like an overheated spud, leaving its devoted producers and cast hopelessly holding a gaping sack! No one had rallied 'round! Such conduct was disgraceful in the extreme.

Don't say it is none of the writer's business! It is—for two reasons. First, because he gave precious evenings, week after week, toward the success of the piece. Second, and most important, because he feels a deep and affectionate interest in the life of a school whose student body contains such charming people as he has been privileged to meet.

Wake up, George Washington! The heart-burning interest you lack is the greatest joy in a university's life. It is the thing that transforms a one-room prairie college into a vital, driving power! Without it you have only a few buildings, some humans, and a prayer!

Georgetown Sidesteps

What was looked forward to as the biggest event on the schedule of the G. W. rifle team will not take place. After persistently sidestepping a match for several weeks the Hilltoppers have finally flatly declined to shoot.

The Georgetown riflemen won the N. R. A. intercollegiate indoor championship, with G. W. in third place. On this basis they contend that they have a better team, and that no further demonstration of their superiority is called for.

Last year Georgetown shooters compiled a record in home range telegraph matches that far exceeded that of their G. W. rivals, yet the latter gave them an artistic trimming when the two teams got together in a shoulder-to-shoulder competition.

It looks now very, very much as though the failure of negotiations for a shoulder-to-shoulder match this year is due to a well-developed suspicion by the Hilltoppers that this is the only way to avoid spoiling their season's record. It is not a flattering assumption to make, but it appears too clearly to be overlooked.

G. W. riflemen are ready to acknowledge that Georgetown has a splendidly capable team, and they are not at all certain that they could win against it, yet they feel they can give the Hilltop marksmen some exceedingly interesting competition, and they are bitterly disappointed at losing the opportunity. The Georgetown attitude is that they have everything to lose and nothing to win by a G. W. match. Certainly this is an attitude unworthy of a real championship team of any sort.

Rifle shooting is the one sport in which G. W. has its best chance against Georgetown. It is consequently especially regrettable that any obstacle should be placed in the way of a meeting of the two institutions in that sport.

Pick Ups

By Leon Kats.

The Student Union at the University of Vermont has a compulsory tax of three dollars on each student, to be paid with the term bills. In that manner the students are sure of funds to carry on their activities, and also the paying of the tax will not be felt when included in the regular term bills.

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," but please don't bring out your mandolin or banjo and commence serenading on any night other than Friday or Saturday. Students at G. W. are fortunate, for the present at least, that they have no such ruling in force as that of the University of Washington. There the ruling which restricts serenading to Friday and Saturday nights was made as a result of complaints registered by residents that serenading late in the night disturbed their sleep. By the way, where are G. W. U.'s Romeos?

G. W.'s May Carnival approaches. Beware the ticket scalper! Here's the method used by the University of Illinois in downing the ticket scalper: All students attending their Junior Prom will be required to give the committee a photograph when purchasing a ticket. On the night of the dance presenters of admittance slips will be compared with their photos and refused admittance if the resemblance is not noticeable. So it's come to this, ah!

The psychology department of the University of Miami has recently added to its equipment a machine for measuring emotions. The apparatus was devised several years ago by a Harvard professor.

Quite a bit of argument could be brought to light by running a contest similar to that recently held at Georgia Tech. The purpose of the contest was to determine the University's ugliest man. Kindly note, all you originators of novel contests.

There's only one way to do it, fellows, and here it is:
Late to bed,
And early to rise,
Keeps my roommate
From wearing my ties.

Courtship is the time when a girl stops to consider whether she can do any better or not.

If "co-eds" come to college seeking eligible young men, then most of them go away disappointed.

Well, I saw Ed Bettelheim at the Junior Law Dance at the Lafayette, so I guess everything went off all right.

Stupid Steve's Kolum

The Y. W. C. A. girls are selling candy on the campus for the purpose of buying grass seed for the G Street campus.

The Freshmen mixer was not quite as lively as the first one they gave. Perhaps they realize that they are almost Sophs now.

Good music at the Frosh mixer. They didn't have any drummer. Didn't need any, not with Jack Hayes up there jumping around.

Dear Steve:
Why are all college profs bald-headed?

J. T. W.

Dear J. T.:
They are not bald-headed. They are just elderly collegiates, and the part in the middle of their hair has slightly spread, more or less.

Stupe.

"Did you know that Doug talks in his sleep?"
"No."

"Well, it's true; he recited in class this morning."

For Girls Only.

Yes, fellows, we knew you would read this, too, because, of course, you read everything pertaining to the girls—certainly, they are just as curious as the boys, or else they would not be reading this article.
Joke's on you!

In the spring a young man's fancy, etc.—and the coo-eds take advantage of it.

Go To It, Georgetown!

The Georgetown drive is meeting with great success. Remember that G. W. is going to start its drive in the near future, so keep your eyes on Georgetown and see how they put it across, then show 'em all something when we start. Georgetown is making a drive for three million; our drive will be for one million, and if we fail this time!?

OPPORTUNITIES FOR GRADUATES

SENIORS and graduate students from all departments of the University are invited to confer with representatives of the Bell Telephone System, who will be at the Builders Exchange Building, 6th floor, 721 13th Street N. W. on MONDAY APRIL 23rd, AT 4 P. M.

THE BELL SYSTEM, which is composed of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the 25 Associated Operating Telephone Companies, and the Western Electric Company, offers a wide choice of work and location to qualified men.

The maintenance, operation and business administration of this great system, the planning and building for its growth, all create new problems to solve and real opportunities for newcomers to the organization.

TELEPHONE OPENS BROAD FIELD TO COLLEGE MEN

An informal address on "Opportunities in Telephone Work for College Men," will be given by J. W. Latham, facilities engineer of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, for the benefit of the seniors and graduates of George Washington University. For the convenience of those interested, the address will be made at the Builders' Exchange Building, 721 Thirteenth Street N. W., on Monday, April 23rd, at 4 p. m. Immediately following the talk appointments for personal interviews will be made with those who desire to learn more of the telephone business and its various activities as fields of work.

Positions are available this year for a number of college men who can qualify for work in the fields of technical development, engineering, accounts, and finance, and commercial and traffic administration. In addition to locations in the C. & P. Telephone Company's territory, which covers Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, and West Virginia, there exists the possibility of locations in other parts of the Bell system, which covers the entire country.

SPORT NOTES

Harvard's tennis team is visiting Washington this week for a match with the Chevy Chase Club racketeers after playing the Country Club teams at Richmond and Norfolk.

Homer Welch broke the southern record for the javelin throw when he hurled it 183 feet in the Georgia Tech field day meet. His mark tops the record by 10 feet.

Basketball rule changes for next year state that the player against whom a foul is called must make the free throw. This change will hit the star foul shooter and make the outcome of the game depend on all five players. Also, two free throws will only be granted a player who is fouled in the 17 foot zone with the ball in his possession, or if fouled any place on floor while in the act of shooting for basket.

Joe Deering who is recognized as one of the leading basketball officials in this locality, has been resigned to coach the Columbia basketball team next year.

Virginia Freshmen baseball nine recently received a severe drubbing here, when the Tech High School team won from it 21 to 6. This win makes Tech look like a dangerous contender for the school title.

Georgetown is placing their 1923 gridiron hopes in the Freshmen team that showed up so well last year in the scrimmages against the varsity. Seven of last year's varsity stars will be lost and their shoes will have to be filled with the incoming Freshmen players. Jackie Maloney is to coach the varsity with Jack Flavin tutoring the Freshmen and helping with the varsity backfield.

George Owen, considered one of the best all-round athletes, is to visit Washington this week with the Harvard nine, which plays C. U. and Maryland on the diamond.

American Legion games in the Central Stadium to-morrow will be attended by a number of schools and colleges from this section and many others. Over a hundred District High School lads alone are entered.

Maryland lacrosse players gave Navy the toughest battle they have encountered in the last six years, that they have not lost. Cullen, former Central High star, played well in the game that ended 4 to 2 in Navy's favor.

WHO HAS BEEN MOST ACTIVE

The committee of which Elmer L. Kayser is chairman, for awarding the Delta Tau Delta activity prize, has again requested that all nominations be in on or before May 1st. So far only two names have been submitted; surely there must be someone else to compete. The committee alone, however, is left to judge who the "lucky" one will be.

Possibly you don't think that the word "Woman" was derived from the "Woe" she caused "Man." But consult the biographies of Adam, A. Mutt, Marc Antony, and Jiggs.

Reformer: "Young man, do you realize that you will never get anywhere by drinking?"

Tipsey Tom: "Ain't it the truth. I've started home from this corner five times already."

No Democrats or Republicans, but still there are parties. As the old-timer stands back to look on and listen to the virtues, but no vices, of these young hopefuls, one can hear him say to himself, "Verily, verily, the half is not told thee."

She: "Should a woman tell everything she knows?"

He: "Yes; but that's all."

GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM TO COMPETE WITH MD. U.

Return Match With College
Park Scheduled for Tomorrow.

A return match with the University of Maryland will be played on April 21st by George Washington's undefeated girls' rifle team. The Maryland girls were out-scored in the last contest by the G. W. team, making a total of 471 points to G. W.'s 485.

Some exceptionally good shooting is expected to be put up by both teams. The girls who will shoot for G. W. are: Edmonston, Faris, Waldman, Kilpatrick, and Barroll.

George Washington is one of the few universities in the United States which has a girls' varsity rifle team in competition with other colleges. The first match with Maryland University was the first to be played in the country.

LAW PROFESSOR AUTHOR

Professor Alvin E. Evans, of the Law School, is the author of an article on "Some Secondary Sources of Acquisition of Community Property," which appears in the March number of the California Law Review. It is a scholarly article, of much interest in the Western States where community property is common. Professor Evans is an authority on this subject.

SPANISH WINNER SOON

According to Professor Doyle, who is in charge of the El Circulo Essay Contest, eight very creditable and well written papers have been handed in. The essays have not been thoroughly examined so that the result of the contest can not be given out immediately. At present the plans are to have the winner announced at the next meeting of the Spanish Club, which will be held May 2nd.

AN OPEN LETTER

Editor the University Hatchet.
Dear Sir: The editorial in the Hatchet of April 18th, attacking the members of the Free Lance Club, furnished amusement for many readers, and while we have no desire to negate its entertainment value, we believe that embedded in its surface froth there are a few misstatements, which are capable of serious interpretation by some readers. In order to eliminate this possibility we submit the following comments:

The Hatchet, speaking of the members of the Free Lance Club, says: "They waste their time upon discussions that are not worthy of the effort." Some of the questions which the club has discussed are the Ruhr occupation, the world court, the reparations problem, the league of nations, the function of the American college, post-war ideals, and the development of Latin America. Discussions of these questions would seem from the Hatchet's point of view to be "not worthy of the effort." This publication queries, "Is this the ultimate aim of the American educational institution?" We ask if this is not a large part of what the American college intends to do for the student, to acquaint him with the world in which he lives, and to give him a knowledge of the world's best thought. We refer the Hatchet to the departments of Political Science, History, and Economics in Columbian College. It is from the Hatchet's editorial that these departments are engaged chiefly in activities "not worthy of the effort."

The Hatchet further says: "This sort of poppy-cock has no place among sane people." To our minds no sane and intelligent man can refuse to consider the urgent world issues, e. g., the Ruhr occupation, the world court, and the situation in Asia Minor. But the estimable Hatchet is of another opinion; to thus toss off with a shrug of the shoulders the problems which have been harassing statesmen and nations by dismissing them as "poppy-cock" is an example of nonchalance quite unequalled. The entertainment afforded by the spectacle of the Hatchet's juvenile insolence is almost compensation for the journal's persistent distortion of the facts.

On April 10th there was posted an anonymous and cowardly attack upon the personal character of certain members of the Free Lance Club and other students and upon the conduct of a dozen professors. It is interesting to note the remarkable relation of this document to the Hatchet's editorial of April 6th and April 13th. A table of parallels in thought and phraseology if printed here would astonish the student body. We are not prepared to say that there is a definite connection between this libelous document and the Hatchet editorials, but in view of the startling similarities we do feel justified in demanding a thorough investigation of the origin of this document.

The charge that the Free Lance Club is responsible for the Ku Klux Klan "evidence" is, of course, absolutely false.

In spite of the excellent buffoonery and the amusing, mock-heroic attack in the Hatchet editorial we can not but feel that the Hatchet columns have been perverted to the purposes of a few individuals who have attempted to discredit a few other individuals. In considering the affair from this angle, whether the Hatchet was right or wrong, does not matter; what does matter is that there has been a misuse and that this practice brings the Hatchet dangerously near to the point where it ceases to be a representative school publication.

The Hatchet editorial speaks admiringly of the "fertile imagination" of Stupid Steve. Judging from the fabrication contained in the editorial of April 18th, this "fertile imagination" seems to be shared by other members of the Hatchet staff.

While the members of the Free Lance Club admit that the present discussion with the Hatchet, in the words of that journal itself, is "not worthy of the effort," they also feel that the presentation of the above facts to the student body is decidedly "worth" the effort. They wish to thank the editor of the Hatchet for giving them this opportunity.

Sincerely,
Submitted by
W. WALDO GIRDNER.

ENGINEERS DANCE

To-morrow night! And the engineers in all their glory and array will be enjoying themselves to the limit at the Cairo. The Engineering Society of G. W. U. is holding its annual spring dance, and according to A. Bussard, Jr., chairman of the dance committee, everybody is going to have a rollicking good time.

There will be thrilling music by Meyer Davis' Nine, which has been engaged for the evening. Snappy programs as an added feature will be distributed and delightful refreshments will be served.

Come and help the engineers make this a memorable occasion. The time, Saturday evening; the place, the Cairo; the admission, $2.00.

Tom: "Why did you tip that boy so handsomely when he gave you your coat?"
Dick: "Look at the coat he gave me!"

PROF. GOES TO HARVARD

Professor Hector G. Spaulding, of the Law School, has been awarded the Ezra Ripley Thayer Teaching Fellowship at the Harvard Law School for 1923-24. He has been granted leave of absence by the George Washington University for next year. His primary purpose in going to Harvard is to pursue post-graduate studies. The awarding of this fellowship by Harvard is a substantial recognition of Professor Spaulding's scholastic attainments. He will be missed at the Law School, but his friends rejoice in the favorable conditions under which he goes to Harvard.
